

Pouring Tea

Black Gay Men of the South Tell Their Tales

Performed by Dr. E. Patrick Johnson

Author of Appropriating Blackness and Co-Editor of Black Queer Studies

This dramatic reading is based on the oral histories collected in Johnson's book, Sweet Tea: Black Gay Men of the South—An Oral History (2008), published by the University of North Carolina Press. The oral histories are from black gay men who were born, raised, and continue to live in the South and range in age from 19 to 93. This performance covers coming of age in the South, religion, sex, transgenderism, love stories, and coming out.

"They are the stories that make going home a little bit easier." ~ Janet Sassi

"From the moment Johnson took the stage, the audience was engaged by his passionate discussion and insight into the lives of the black gay men he met and interviewed." ~ Emily Thomsen
